

The New York Times

Fuzzy Thinking: Artist-Designed Rugs

By Tim McKeough Oct. 4, 2018

Deborah Kass, "Nobody Puts Baby in The Corner," 2018, a hand-knotted wool rug for Bravin Lee.
Credit Bravin Lee

A Manhattan gallery, BravinLee programs, is making bold, graphic rugs from hand-knotted wool and silk by artists such as Christopher Wool, Jonas Wood and James Welling, with more in the pipeline from Deborah Kass, Julio Le Parc and Wangechi Mutu.

Find article at: <https://www.nytimes.com/2018/10/04/style/fuzzy-thinking-artist-designed-rugs.html>